

CROWD TO HIS BIER

Thousands Press Into the Hall of State

TO VIEW BEN BUTLER'S FACE

The Private Funeral Services Held Yesterday, Followed by an Eagerness to Catch a Last Look.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 15.—At General Butler's home on Belvidere hill at 9:30 this morning, private funeral services were held. The Rev. Dr. A. St. John, of the Episcopal church, read the offices for the dead. The body was in the drawing room. The stars and stripes were not on the casket during the private funeral services. President Harrison's wreath and some flowers were laid upon the coffin.

Among those present were such leading men of the city as are close friends of the family and the general's acquaintances. Messrs. Plimpton and Dr. W. C. Butler, of Lowell, were present. The Rev. Dr. A. St. John, of the Episcopal church, read the offices for the dead. The body was in the drawing room. The stars and stripes were not on the casket during the private funeral services. President Harrison's wreath and some flowers were laid upon the coffin.

After the short services, closing with the Lord's prayer, those present looked at the general for the last time. Comrades bore the body from the house to the casket drawn by four horses. A wild wind was blowing from the river over the hill; the veterans suffered, but not a man sought shelter. As the body was carried from the portals of the house the drum and the colors were dipped and the company saluted. When the march to the hall was taken up arms were reversed and the officers fell to the rear of the detachment.

The body in state. The streets were crowded as the funeral procession passed to Huntington hall, where the body was to lie in state. A great crowd was waiting to be admitted to the hall. In the hall the coffin was placed in the center of the floor. From the ceiling to the floor a wall of black extended. The coffin light did not extend to this wall of black and the effect was dismal and gruesome. Grand Army men guarded the casket. On the coffin rested the sword and epaulet that the general wore from Lowell to the Gulf and back again.

All the afternoon a steady stream of people poured in, but the crowd that waited to get in did not diminish. The excitement was on Shattuck street, and a stream of people poured through that door. No impression could be made on the mass that clamored for admission at the other side of the hall. Late in the afternoon the doors were closed and the officers had an hour's rest. It was designed to close the hall at 5 o'clock until tomorrow morning, but at 6 o'clock the doors were opened again. This time the people were beaten into lines and more order was maintained up to 11 o'clock, when the final closing was made. Hundreds left the place without getting in, and many others who wanted to get out of the place were forced to wait and be swept in the hall by the stream.

There will be another crush tomorrow morning, as those who failed today will try then. The preparations are greater than Lowell has ever witnessed for a funeral. The militia, the visiting dignitaries, Grand Army posts and about every loyal society will swell the funeral procession to enormous proportions. Tonight the police force was increased and about forty firemen added to it. The crowd smashed a lot of glass in a shop and an unknown woman had a leg broken.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

Proprietor of a Chicago Shooting Gallery Found Shot Dead.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—John Russell, proprietor of a shooting gallery at No. 129 South Halsted street, was murdered at his place of business last night under circumstances that indicate the successful accomplishment of a daring and well-planned crime. The body was found this morning at 11:30 o'clock with a bullet wound in the back of the head, and its condition showed that Russell must have been dead fifteen hours, thus fixing the time of the shooting at about 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

At 11 o'clock this morning two women called at the office of Dr. Levi L. Funk at No. 134 South Halsted street and asked him to summon the police to the shooting gallery. Investigation led to the discovery that the two women were Mrs. Rosa Sherwood and her sister, Mrs. Annie Hewitt. Both women were arrested, and after an examination, in which they told conflicting stories, they were locked up on suspicion of knowing more about the crime than they were willing to admit. Both had done housework for Russell, who was single, and who lived in the building where the shooting occurred. Russell's pockets were found turned inside out, and a trunk in the room had been rifled, proving that robbery was the motive for the crime.

Russell was an Englishman 34 years old, and formerly resided in Park Row, New York city. He was possessed of considerable means, and a deed of violence was found among the dead man's effects. Nothing is known of his relatives.

KILLED TWO PERSONS.

The Awful Deed of a Jealous Husband at Rice Lake.

RICE LAKE, Wis., Jan. 15.—E. C. Allen, a teamster who moved here from Wauwatosa, Wis., shot and killed Bert Van Tassel and mortally wounded his wife at Mrs. Van Tassel's restaurant in this city last night. Allen claimed that Van Tassel was unduly intimate with his wife and that he caught them together two weeks ago. He attempted to shoot Van Tassel at that time, but was prevented and put in jail. Allen had been drinking last night and went to a restaurant where his wife worked to pay a board bill. He asked for Mrs. Van Tassel, the restaurant keeper, who went for some tobacco, and while he was gone Mrs. Van Tassel opened fire with his revolver on Van Tassel. Two shots took effect, one in the left lung and one in the forehead. Allen turned his weapon on his wife. Three shots took effect, two in the right arm and one in the abdomen. He attempted to shoot her again as she lay on the floor, but the cartridge missed Mrs. Van Tassel and struck a detective. Mrs. Allen's recovery is doubtful. Allen seemed to be a good humor when he entered the restaurant and shook hands with all present, including Van Tassel and Mrs. Allen. He was tried and convicted before Judge McKenny at Cleveland in 1887 for the murder of his second wife and, serving about a year of his sentence, was pardoned. He is about 40 years old. Mrs. Allen is a young and fine looking woman. After the shooting last night Allen gave himself up to an officer.

ANOTHER BIG SENSATION.

A Doctor Compromises Himself by a Letter to a Coal Dealer.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 15.—The attorneys for the defense in the case of F. Dempsey were surprised today by an unexpected visitor from Baltimore, who came here to lay before them a letter, which they think will throw a much different light on the trial now in progress.

The letter shows that at least one witness for the prosecution, and an important one, too, was well paid for coming to Pittsburgh to testify. William C. Kaiss, a wealthy coal merchant of Baltimore, is the man who brought the letter, and he says humanity impelled him to come. The letter in question was received by Mr. Kaiss from Dr. James Cooper, the Baltimore physician, who treated Christopher Spaid, an alleged victim of the poisoning, who testified that Spaid was suffering undoubtedly from arsenical poisoning. He was positive in his statement and would not recede from it under searching cross-examination by Attorney Porter of the defense, who quoted authorities to show the doctor where he was wrong.

Dr. Cooper owed Mr. Kaiss $18.75 for coal since last April, and the latter says he was never able to collect the bill. On Saturday last he received a letter enclosed in a central hotel envelope and postmarked W. Pittsburg, Jan. 12, which is the day Dr. Cooper gave his testimony. The letter is as follows:

CENTRAL HOTEL, }
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12, 1893.

Messrs. Kaiss & Co., Baltimore:
GENTLEMEN—Please send me one ton of coal; I think it is Sunbury No. 2. I will call on my arrival and settle the old account as I have just drawn a fee of $500 from the Carnegie company. I will not return until Friday morning, when I will stop in.

Yours faithfully,
JAMES COOPER,
No. 1353 Hull street.

Mr. Kaiss laid this information before Attorney Porter, Mr. Dempsey's attorney tonight. It will cause a big sensation.

CHICAGO SUFFERS WITH COLD.

Trains Are Lost in the Shuffles and Men Frozen in Cabs.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The cold spell of the past few days is the severest experienced in several years, and is general throughout the west. At 10 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 18 degrees below zero, but since that hour the temperature has slightly moderated. Railroads are the chief sufferers, nearly all passenger trains being from one to twenty-four hours late. The mail service is badly demoralized, and in some sections freight traffic has been entirely abandoned.

The cold weather has filled the lake with ice and made life almost impossible at the water works' cribs. The experience of the men stationed at the two-mile crib last night surpassed anything in that quarter in several years. Four of them were seriously frozen. They were Crispecker, Dall, Assistant Crispecker, Marshall, William Hanson and William Brooks. They were all confined to their beds today, but they will probably be able to resume work in a few days.

ELECTROCUTED TODAY.

Loth Will Pay for the Brutal Murder of Mrs. Demask.

DENVER, Mo., N. Y., Jan. 15.—Kornell Loth, a Hungarian, 26 years old, will be electrocuted tomorrow. The witness will be admitted to the prison at 10 o'clock a. m., and the execution will take place soon afterwards.

Loth was convicted in Schenectady county for the murder of Mrs. Etta Demask, the crime being committed in her own home in Schenectady. The trial was the shortest on record in this state. Loth committed the crime June 14, 1892, he was arrested in July, put on trial in November, which was concluded in two days, and was sentenced December 3 to be electrocuted January 16. Loth slept most of the time today. He had to be awakened to have the death warrant read to him, and also when the spiritual advisor called to see him. He ate a hearty breakfast and supper, and showed little feeling of interest in the approaching execution.

TELL LIKE LUCIFER.

Convict Ball and Chain Will Make a Church Pillar Limp.

HAVENHILL, Mass., Jan. 15.—A sensation has been caused in Georgetown by the arrest of Frank Vining, a prominent citizen and Sunday school superintendent, who, by his own confession, is a forger. Over two years ago Vining came to Georgetown with good references and purchased a half interest in a business with Harold F. Blake for $10,000, paying $1,000 down and giving notes as collateral for the balance. The notes bore gilt edged names, but Vining always opposed their negotiation, and finally confessed that they were forged. He confessed also to forging other notes, the amount aggregating some $11,000. These were mostly settled and Vining given a chance to reform. Within a few months, however, other checks were presented, which led to Vining's arrest. He is in jail in default of $2,000 bail.

BREWSTER'S BLAZE.

Little New York Town Loses Some of Its Business Houses.

BREWSTER, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Fire broke out in the town hall here at 6 o'clock this morning, and before it could be checked had destroyed the town hall, Hall Smith and Bros. store, A. F. Lottel's store, F. H. Merritt's printing establishment, the postoffice and printing office of the Brewster Standard. The loss is upwards of $100,000. The insurance will amount to about $75,000. It is uncertain what caused the flames, but it is thought that an overloaded stove or a defective gas led to the conflagration. It is thought that all of the mail was saved.

NONE TO SAVE HER

Awful Experience of May Jenkins of Bay City.

DRIVEN FROM HOME TO A DIVE

She Is Found Roaming the Streets Nearly Demented and in a Half Frozen Condition.

WEST BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 15.—May Jenkins, aged fifteen, was reported by her father several days ago as having disappeared from home and the police were requested to look for her. Last night she was picked up by Chief Munshaw of this city and was taken before Justice Brigham, charged with being a disorderly character. In court she gave testimony of a most sensational nature. According to her testimony she lived with her parents, two sisters and a brother in a one-room shanty a few miles west of the city. There was neither bed nor chair in the house, the family sleeping on the floor right with a few blankets for a covering. Her father told her she would have to come to the city and find work, and she left home, but instead of finding employment fell in with a woman who enticed her to a low resort on Fifth street, where she remained several nights. Then she was turned out of the place and went to another of similar but even lower character, where she remained a few days.

When found by the chief she was very thinly clad. The sole of her shoes were worn off and the bottoms of her feet frozen.

The girl's story, so far as it related to her home, was corroborated by the officials, who visited the place. It was decided to send her to the Adair reformatory.

DIPHTHERIA BREAKS OUT.

The State Agricultural College Has the Disease in Its Midst.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 15.—Diphtheria, which created such consternation at the agricultural college last spring, has again made its appearance here. Last week one of the employees visited his daughter, who was ill with the disease in Detroit, and returned the following day. He had the certificate of the Detroit health officer that he had been properly disinfected. On Monday he again went to Detroit and returned Tuesday, sick, and brought a note from the same health official advising that he be placed in quarantine. His illness proved to be diphtheria. Every precaution is being taken to stamp out the disease. The winter vacation will not end for a month, and as but few students are on the ground no serious results are apprehended. The college officials are greatly incensed at the course pursued by the Detroit authorities.

MASONS CELEBRATE.

Jackson Lodge No. 17 Puttigny Keeps Its Forty-Fifth Birthday Anniversary.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 15.—Jackson lodge No. 17, F. and A. M., celebrated its forty-fifth birthday last evening, prominent Masons throughout the state being present. On January 14, 1848, three young men received a charter from the Grand lodge of Michigan; Paul B. King, worshipful master, C. Jones senior warden and William N. Choate junior warden. From that day the lodge has increased in members, its present membership being 230. Mr. Tomlinson, Joseph J. Jones, is familiarly spoken of as the only one of the original members of the lodge who does not permit his years to interfere with his attendance at the meetings. In the forty-five years he has held every office in the lodge, and for thirty years he has occupied the position of lodge recorder.

The toasts at the banquet were responded to by Past Grand Master and Past Master Michael Shoemaker, Past Masters Benjamin Porter, Andrew J. Westerman, Lovell, Griffith, Prosser, Traver and Tomlinson. Albert Stiles, Charles E. Townsend, John B. Reynolds, L. C. Brooks, E. W. Chapin, J. W. Blakely and others. Worshipful Master John H. Lane was master of ceremonies and A. H. Traver toastmaster.

MAILED A BRUTE.

The Jackson Robber Pays No Attention to His Weeping Parents.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 15.—Charles Mallet, the notorious robber, was sentenced to three and one-half years in state prison by Judge Peck yesterday. When Mallet was brought into court for his weeping parents as he passed their way to the pen. On taking his seat the young tough jeered at the emotion of his aged mother and made remarks which caused the hearers to wish he was going to be hanged. Judge Peck ordered that Mallet be kept in custody, and that some of the judges reached home was apparent when the young brute winced. The crime for which Mallet was sentenced was the robbery of Peter McInnis December 19 in a back room at the Germania hotel, securing from the old fellow $30.

Are Scared to Death.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 15.—Railroad men and our citizens generally are greatly interested in the threat of President Harrison to retaliate against the Canadian railroads. Battle Creek is the division of the Chicago & Grand Trunk and a large portion of our population are railroad employees. The company pays out $50,000 a month in this city for wages and any action on the part of the president that would lessen the business of the road would mean injury to the business men of Battle Creek. The action of the president is watched with considerable anxiety.

Shot in the Arm.

PORT HURON, Mich., Jan. 15.—Ellisworth Adams, a 16-year-old son of F. C. Adams, went hunting for rabbits yesterday afternoon and returned home with part of the charge from his shotgun in the fleshy part of his right arm. After having gone after a rabbit which he had killed he picked up his gun by the barrel and at the same time gave it a jerk which discharged the second barrel, the charge tearing away part of four nerves and going through the fleshy part of the arm.

Caught Him at Last.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 15.—John Myers, a gambler, was caught by the police yesterday May 22, 1892, and a small amount of money taken. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Eugene Douglas and John Swedes. Douglas was caught a week later and his case was disposed of, but Swedes succeeded in eluding detection. Word was received the other day that he was near Bronson, and yesterday Deputy Sheriff Struble brought him to this city and locked him up.

Allen Not Guilty.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 15.—Arthur R. Allen, agricultural dealer at Springport, who was arrested on complaint of the Least Agricultural company of Freeport, this, charged with embezzlement, was discharged yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats. This action was in accordance with instructions from the court.

Lost a Leg.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 15.—William Spillane, an engineer on the C. & G. T. railroad, met with a serious, if not fatal, accident at Edwardsburg. The driving rod of his engine broke and forced its way through the cab, breaking both Spillane's legs. He was brought to this city and one leg was amputated. He has a wife and two children.

Molten Metal in His Eye.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 15.—Peter Miller, aged 47, a laborer employed at the Michigan Penitentiary car works, lifted a molten metal with a cold ladle yesterday afternoon and the metal splashed, some of it striking him in the right eye. Dr. J. B. Kennedy, who was called to attend him, fears he will lose his eyesight.

Another Pioneer Gone.

SCOTTVILLE, Mich., Jan. 15.—John J. Gilding, ex-supervisor of Custer, a very prominent public man, one who has exerted a great influence in local politics and one of the pioneers of Mason county, died this morning of yellow jaundice, aged 55 years. His family will receive $2,000 life insurance from the M. W. A. F.

Death Amid Sin.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 15.—Maud Wilson, young and colored, who recently came from Chatham, Ont., and became an inmate of Catherine Durpe's respectable house at No. 147 West Larned street, died suddenly last night while sitting in a chair. It is presumed that death resulted from heart disease.

He Took Morphine.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 15.—Arthur Chrouch, living with his family at No. 70 Hazel street, committed suicide at 7 o'clock by taking a large dose of morphine. The family are very non-committal over the affair, but it is presumed that Chrouch was despondent over his inability to procure work.

Is He a Postoffice Robber?

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Jan. 15.—Frank Thomas was arrested here charged with burglarizing the Pontiac postoffice. He had a quantity of postage stamps in his possession, and had just served fifteen days here, under the name of James Henderson, on a charge of drunkenness.

Killed by a Train.

CONSUMPTION, Mich., Jan. 15.—George Hamilton, a farmer living about five miles from here in Florence township, while crossing the railroad track at this place this afternoon, was instantly killed by a freight train.

Battle Creek's Coal famine.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 15.—A serious coal famine is feared here, owing to the blockades on the rail roads. Nichols & Shepard's company will be obliged to shut down Monday if not supplied.

DR. M'GLYNN'S LETTER.

The Manly Statement of His Case Made to Senators.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn tonight said that in his letter to Mr. Satioli he had neither condemned nor retracted the economic doctrine that he had been teaching. "And yet," he says, "thanks to the enlightened judgment and noble heart of the late Cardinal, the doctrine is being taught by his worthy representative, Archbishop Satioli, in carrying out his instructions, I have been relieved of ecclesiastical censure and fully restored to my priestly ministry."

Now that this is made clear by the public statement of Archbishop Satioli, we are relieved from the restraint of certain considerations of prudence and delicacy, and I am only too happy to publish the letter which I presented to the apostolic delegate and his acceptance of which was immediately followed by the declaration of the publication of which reaffirms the sentiments which it contains.

The letter is as follows: "Monsignor, I am very happy to learn that there is nothing contrary to Catholic doctrine in the doctrine taught by me, as it was explained by me in the exposition of the same which I sent to your grace, and I rejoice that you are prepared to remove the ecclesiastical censure. I assure you that I have never said, and I will never say, consciously, a word contrary to the teachings of the church, and of the Catholic See to which teachings and notably to those contained in the encyclical Rerum Novarum, I give and have ever given full adherence; and if whatever word may have ever escaped me which might seem not entirely conformable to those teachings, I would like to recall it or interpret it in a sense conformable to them not consciously failed in the respect due the authority of the Holy See, but if whatever word may have ever escaped me not conformable to the respect due to it, I should be the first to regret and to recall it. As to the journey to Rome, I will make it within three or four months, if the matter be not otherwise determined by the holy father. I am your grace's very obedient servant."

EDWARD M'GLYNN.

"23 Dec, 1892." Dr. McGlynn says, "If I did this, I would express a wish to see me I shall be very happy indeed to comply with his wishes and to take that occasion to thank him in person for his kindly and enlightened judgment and action in my behalf. In the statement presented to Archbishop Satioli there is no minimizing, explaining away or departing from the doctrine of the united labor party platform or the anti poverty society, as I have been teaching the doctrine for years."

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS MEET.

Their Annual Convention Will Begin Today and End Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The twenty-fifth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association will be held in this city this week, beginning tomorrow and continuing over Thursday. The speakers are that white will be chosen Wednesday.

WILL BE VERY GAY

Dinners in Honor of Secretary and Mrs. Foster.

HAVE NOTHING TO DO BUT EAT

Washington Has Two Society Sensations the Past Week—Diplomats Receive Mgr. Satioli With Open Arms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Washington experienced two sensations in the week just closed. One was negative, so to speak; the other positive.

Prince Isenburg made his appearance and there was no rush after him. This was the first. Whether it was due to the jealousy of Washington for things Baltimorean (the prince has been spending some time in that city and was introduced to Washington by Baltimore visitors) or some other occult cause, the fact remains that Washington has so far declined to make a real live prince the rage or even a rage, a sensation among.

The other is Miss Anna Virginia Culbertson of Zanesville, O., whose exploits are confined to the literary world of the capital. Her wonderful interpretations of some of her own southern and western dialect stories are listened to by large audiences, and the house of the postmaster general closed against the hospitable doors to its spacious interior that Mrs. Wansmaker might entertain her friends with Miss Culbertson's recitations.

Reception to Satioli.

Secretary of State and Mrs. Foster will be given a round of dinners within the next few days by members of the diplomatic corps previous to their departure for Paris, where Mr. Foster will have charge of the case of the United States in the Bering sea arbitration. The first of these was on Friday night last, when the Japanese minister and Mrs. Tanaka entertained a party of a dozen in their honor.

Secretary Foster expects to resign his portfolio the last week in this month, and after a short visit to New York will sail with Mrs. Foster for Paris, which they will reach about February 20. The arbitrators are to meet February 23.

Sensor and Mrs. Hale gave a dinner and dance Friday night to Miss Morton, the debutante of the week.

A reception will be given in honor of Mgr. Satioli, the papal delegate to the United States, by Mrs. Madeline Vinson Dahlgren Wednesday night next. The view of the monarchist's new appointment the diplomatic corps are inclined to adopt him as a member, notwithstanding the fact that he has no official relations with the government of the United States. In the afternoon of the 14th the Senator and Mrs. Voorhees will give a reception to Cardinal Gibbons.

M. Norrighan, secretary of the Turkish legation, last night gave a dinner for M. Avazowsky, the famous Armenian painter, who is spending a short time in the American capital.

BUSY WEEK FOR ALL.

Congress Has Many Important Bills to Consider.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The week promises to be eventful in the senate. Save the passage of the quarantine bill, the senate has accomplished very little and not one of the annual appropriation bills has been passed. The committee on order of business has demanded that something must be done to advance public business of Mr. Sherman, chairman of that committee, that he would ask the senate to sit next Wednesday until the anti-option bill is disposed of. That this can be done without a bitter struggle is not expected. What will follow the anti-option bill will be decided by the committee on order of business before Wednesday. At present the indications are that priority will lie between some of the inter-state commerce bills, if Senator Culbertson is able to resume his duties; the Nicaragua canal bill and perhaps a resolution to repeal the silver purchase act.

Mr. Pfeiffer of Kansas is down for a speech on the limitation of the presidential term and Mr. Morrill of Vermont on the McMillan bill for tomorrow. The majority have mapped out a big program for the house. Tomorrow is suspension day. Efforts will be made to pass the Raun pension office report, and the bill for the election of senators by the people by a two-thirds vote.

The majority of the rules committee has decided to allot Tuesday to bills coming from the judiciary committee; Wednesday to the immigration bill; Thursday to a couple of additional bills originating with the committee on foreign and inter-state commerce; Friday, under the regular rules, is private bill day.

There is some opposition to the immigration bill, and it is a daily likely one day will suffice for its passage. The friends of the quarantine bill reported by the committee on foreign and inter-state commerce, which bill, it is contended, meets all the evils to which the immigrant in a bill was designed to remedy, are opposed to the state quarantine officers of New York, but at least a part of this opposition has been withdrawn. There is a probability of some trouble for each of these bills from the opposition of members who favor the other two measures.

The commerce committee has a formidable list of measures which it hopes to pass, headed by the omnibus light house bill and the bill for the revenue cutters. The committee is also anxious to pass two bills amendatory of the inter-state commerce act, which will be reported to the house during the week by Chairman Wise of Virginia, to meet the Councilman case and the Graham decision and to allow railroad pooling under the control of the inter-state commerce commission.

Are Seeking Grover.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 15.—President Cleveland and his friends are today. He received a few friends in the afternoon. As he has made no arrangements to go to New York this week, it is said that he will be visited by several prominent democrats. It is said that J. Randolph Tuck and Mr. Carville will probably call on Mr. Cleveland tomorrow or Tuesday. Much of the mail received by Mr. Cleveland yesterday will be sent to Secretary O'Brien tomorrow as the president-elect says he will not open it here.

California's Senatorial Fight.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 15.—The republicans have decided to abandon the plan of nominating but one candidate, and as a result the names of Senator Filson, Judge Widney, ex-Governor Perkins, M. H. De Young and M. St. Estes will be presented Tuesday by the republicans and Stephen M. White and Cassius B. Demorett. The indications are that White will be chosen Wednesday.

Metroita Music Hall, where the sessions will be held, a sort of preliminary to the gathering.

At the sessions tomorrow the preliminary business reports of committees and officers will be transacted and at night Susan B. Anthony will deliver the president's address. Previous thereto, an address of welcome will be delivered by Senator Carri of Wyoming.

HEARING THE END.

The Row in Kansas Will Be Settled Today.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—Jerry Simpson departed today for Washington and will have nothing further to say regarding the trouble between the two houses. That there is some trouble in the populist camp, growing out of Simpson's leadership for the past three weeks, seems probable from the talk of several prominent populists. They intimate that the present difficulties are in part due to Simpson's efforts to force a compromise with the republicans that would result in his own election as senator. The two houses will meet at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The republicans have called a caucus for tomorrow to nominate a candidate for state printer, and whether the difficulties over organization are adjusted or not balloting must begin. If the election does not change materially two elections will be held. Unless the parties get together in the matter each house will elect a state printer, and when the senate meets in joint session with the house the populist senators will probably vote with the populists while the republican senators will vote with the republicans in the house.

Speaker Douglas and the other sixty-three republican members of the house tonight issued an address to the citizens of Kansas, stating at length their side of the controversy and giving the claims upon which they base their right to organize the house of representatives. It is charged that the list of members as prepared by the secretary of state—the only legal list has been substituted by the populists and other unscrupulous substitutes for regular members.

LUMPY JAW CURED.

Iodide of Potassium a Cheap and Very Effective Remedy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Secretary Ruak has received from Dr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, a report on the experiments and investigations being made in Chicago in the treatment of cattle for actinomycosis or "lumpy jaw." The report concludes that the remedy triiodide of potassium—is a remarkable success; 63 per cent of the cattle there treated have been cured. The greater part of these were very seriously affected when taken for treatment.

The report shows the cost of the treatment to be trifling by comparison with the result, and it is also proved that the disease is not contagious, twenty-one head of healthy cattle having been confined in close quarters with the diseased ones for three months without showing any signs of being infected.

The report severely arraigns the live stock commissioners of the state of Illinois for what it regards as arbitrary and inconsistent ruling, by which gross losses have been inflicted upon stock owners seeking a market for their stock in Chicago. Animals have been condemned without proper appraisal, and the owners have not received fair compensation for their carcasses. Dr. Salmon charges that the government has interfered on the part of the commissioners with the experiments of the bureau.

SENATOR HORN DEAD.
